

8th Conference of the Swiss Association for Gender Studies (SAGS)

wissen
savoir sapere
know
G-kedge

University of Basel
Kollegienhaus
Petersgraben 50
4051 Basel

Basel
08-09/09/2025

ROOM OVERVIEW

FOYER KOLLEGIENHAUS
Welcome Address & Conference Opening

LECTURE HALL 102

- Keynote: "Philosophie du viol – une archéologie du déni"
- Keynote: "Beyond Doomscrowledge. For a cyber_trans_feminism"

LECTURE HALL 001

- Open Discussion of SAGS Charter
- Roundtable "Netpolitics: Circulating Emancipatory Ideas Online"
- Reception of the Swiss Association for Gender Studies and its Research Networks
- Farewell

PANELS

SEMINAR ROOM 103

- Revisiting: Theory, Method, Critique
- Re-Zentrierung marginalisierter Wissensbestände
- Queer in Context: Translations, Transformations
- Queer knowledge production and circulation: bridging gaps in cisgender normative institutions – Vol. I
- Queer knowledge production and circulation: bridging gaps in cisgender normative institutions – Vol. II

SEMINAR ROOM 104

- Embodied Knowledges & Corporal Regimes
- Sex, Sexual Violence & Power
- Centering Embodied Knowledge: What Do We Know About Intimacy
- MIT dem Körper wissen – Bewegung als Wissensquelle
- Family, Kinship & State Policies

SEMINAR ROOM 105

- Feminist Approaches to Low-Wage Labour and Collaborative Knowledge Production
- Laboratory: Friendly 'Speed-Brainstorming' on Critical Methodological Approaches
- Poverty and Gender: Invisible Structures and Practices of Resistance
- Knowing Inequalities: Resistances, Persistences
- Re-envisioning affective solidarities across contexts

SEMINAR ROOM 106

- Gender & Environment
- Critiquing Masculinities
- Anforderungen an künstlerische Leitung – hegemoniale Männlichkeiten in Transformation
- Gemeinsam für feministische Wissensproduktion: Geschichte und Zukunft des Vereins Feministische Wissenschaft Schweiz
- Antifeminismus auf Social Media

SEMINAR ROOM 107

- Translated with whose words and in whose image? Transnational feminist, queer and anti-racist politics across linguistic, geographical and political boundaries
- Sharing Experiences, Struggles, and Empowerment of Racially Marked Scholars in Knowledge Production – Vol. I
- Sharing Experiences, Struggles, and Empowerment of Racially Marked Scholars in Knowledge Production – Vol. II
- Silenced but Audible: Struggles for Feminist Knowledges
- Knowledge production in anti-democratic times: Imperialism, (dis)articulation, and anti-gender politics

SEMINAR ROOM 210

- Geschlecht & Bildung
- Feminist Organisation Research
- Doing Gender Studies: Producing Knowledge otherwise
- Science, Objectivity & Critique: Queer-Feminist, and Trans' Perspectives
- World-making Knowledge Practices

SEMINAR ROOM 211

- Past Tense, Past Tensions: Gender over the Longue Durée
- Potentiels et limites de l'approche biographique : enjeux méthodologiques et politiques d'une pratique féministe des savoirs historiques
- Hidden Figures: Kritische Perspektiven auf die (fast) Vergessenen
- Re-Visioning Creative Practices

KASERNE BASEL

- Kitchen Politics. Emanzipatorische, transdisziplinäre Wissensordnungen

BOTH DAYS

FLOOR 2 (CORRIDOR)
Exhibition with information stand:
FemWiss (1993-2004)

MEETING ROOM 206
Video: Queer Martyrs

SEMINAR ROOM 212
Mujeres que Luchan – Experiencing Research-Creation Through Feminist Activism
KOLLEGIENHAUS
Audiotalk: f_r_iction in the space be_tween

ACCOMPANYING PROGRAM

TINGUELY-BRUNNEN
Women's Walking Tour 1: Katzenblut und Perlenbrot – Verborgene Geschichten aus der Basler Medizin

PISONI-BRUNNEN
Women's Walking Tour 2: Hidden Entanglements. How Basel's Colonial History Shapes the Present

FOYER AND VERSO
Performance "hundredeighty" by Performance Rage Collective

TIMETABLE

MONDAY, 8 SEPTEMBER 2025

09:00–10:30	Women's Walking Tours
09:15–11:00	Registration & Welcome Coffee
11:00–11:30	Welcome Address & Conference Opening
11:30–12:30	Keynote by Elsa Dorlin
12:30–13:15	Lunch Break
13:15–14:45	Parallel Panel Sessions 1
14:45–15:00	Comfort Break
15:00–16:30	Parallel Panel Sessions 2
16:30–17:00	Coffee Break
17:00–18:30	Parallel Panel Sessions 3
18:30–19:45	Reception of the Swiss Association for Gender Studies and its Research Networks
20:00–21:15	Public performance by Performing Rage Kollektiv

TUESDAY, 9 SEPTEMBER 2025

09:15–10:45	Parallel Panel Sessions 4
10:45–11:15	Coffee Break
11:15–12:45	Parallel Panel Sessions 5
12:45–13:30	Lunch Break
13:30–14:30	Keynote by Katrin M. Kämpf
14:30–15:00	Coffee Break
15:00–16:15	Roundtable
16:15–16:30	Farewell

MONDAY, 8 SEPTEMBER 2025

09:00-10:30 Women's Walking Tours

Tour 1: Katzenblut und Perlenbrot – Verborgene Geschichten aus der Basler Medizin

(TINGUELY-BRUNNEN)

German

Sara Thoma & Meret Tiburzi

of Frauenstadtrundgang Basel

Starting Point: Tinguely-Brunnen,

Theaterplatz Basel

End Point: Blutspendezentrum,

Hebelstrasse 10

How did nuns in the Steinenkloster alleviate menstrual discomfort? Where is the oldest pharmacy in Basel located? How do racism, sexism, and class continue to shape medical knowledge today? Discover how activists in recent decades have addressed gaps in the healthcare system, whether in the 'Schliengrüppli' or the first residential home for people with AIDS. From ancient pharmaceutical knowledge and medieval monastery gardens to 'hysterical women' and the development of modern hospitals in the 19th century, we explore who created medical knowledge and who had access to it.

Please kindly note that the number of participants is limited to 25 persons. To register contact: sags-conference25@unibas.ch. Places will be assigned on a first come, first served basis. Additionally, this tour includes stairs, inclines, curbs and cobblestones.

Tour 2: Hidden Entanglements. How Basel's Colonial History Shapes the Present

(PISONI-BRUNNEN)

English

Ladina Huber & Jo Meier

of Frauenstadtrundgang Basel

Starting Point: Pisoni-Brunnen,

Münsterplatz Basel

End Point: Spalenberg

of Frauenstadtrundgang Basel

The traces of colonialism are still visible in Basel today. Basel was a transit point for emigration to the colonies. Patrician families became richer through the trade in colonial goods and enslaved people. On the city tour, you will learn not only about the colonial entanglements, but also about how these characterize Basel today. We look at current issues in a historical context: Should Basel return cultural heritage? To what extent are adverts by aid organizations racist? What does the image of Switzerland have to do with colonialism?

Please kindly note that the number of participants is limited to 25 persons. To register contact: sags-conference25@unibas.ch. Places will be assigned on a first come, first served basis. Additionally, this tour includes stairs, inclines, curbs and cobblestones.

09:15–11:00 Registration & Welcome Coffee

(FOYER KOLLEGIENHAUS)

Entrance Petersgraben 50

11:00–11:30 Welcome Address & Conference Opening

(LECTURE HALL 102)

Nadja Braun Binder (Vice-Rector People & Culture, University of Basel, CH)

Janine Dahinden (President, SAGS, CH)

Bianca Priet, Marion Schulze & David Meier-Arendt (Local Conference Team, University of Basel, CH)

11:30–12:30 Keynote

(LECTURE HALL 102)

French / with translation to English

Elsa Dorlin (Professor for Political and Contemporary Philosophy, University of Toulouse, F)

Philosophie du viol – une archéologie du déni

Il s'agit dans cette intervention de s'appuyer sur la bibliothèque des philosophies féministes pour problématiser le viol comme ce qui constitue l'une des dimensions principales du déni de réalité. A distance des interprétations psychanalytiques de la notion, une philosophie et une historiographie sociale et politique qui fait retour sur les héritages de la modernité pourraient s'interroger sur les processus de déréalisation qu'initient ou qu'entérinent l'ordinaire du viol.

In this keynote, Elsa Dorlin will draw on the library of feminist philosophies to problematize rape as one of the principal dimensions of denial of reality. Distancing itself from psychoanalytic interpretations, a socio-political philosophy and historiography, which returns to the heritages of modernity, could interrogate the processes of de-realization that initiate and endorse the ordinary of rape.

12:30–13:15 Lunch Break

13:15–14:45 Parallel Panel Sessions 1

Revisiting: Theory, Method, Critique

(SEMINAR ROOM 103)

English / German

Chair: Anna Kerstin Kraft (University of Basel, CH)

Heike Kahlert (Ruh University of Bochum, D) Feministische Kanonkritik revisited: Bestandsaufnahme, Herausforderungen und Forschungsperspektiven

Zeynep Cemre Sandalli (University of Freiburg, D)

Intersectionality Revisited: For a Reconceptualization of Intersectionality as a Method

Stefanie Bouila (Lucerne University of Applied Sciences and Arts, CH)

Queer Theory and Participatory Action Research: Community-Driven Knowledge Production Beyond queer Antinormativity

Antonina Maria Woza Urbanczak (University of Graz, AT)

'First-person's experience' feminist, disability, queer and trans hermeneutics. Problems and solutions for theologies

Embodying Knowledges & Corporeal Regimes

(SEMINAR ROOM 104)

English / German

Chair: Marion Schulze (University of Basel, CH)

Oxana Eremin (University of Paderborn, D) Menstruation meets Yoga – Körper- & Geschlechterwissen im Kontext hormon- &zykluskontrollierter

Yogapraxis

Jasmin Schmidlin (University of Basel, CH)

•Body Literacy im zyklischen Leben: Vom zyklischen

Körper als sprechendes Gegenüber in Menstruations-

rätgebern

Mirjam Werlen (Children's Advocacy Switzerland, CH)

Wissensproduktion der Medizin und Intergeschlech-

lichkeit: Epistemische Ungerechtigkeit und Gewalt

Feminist Approaches to Low-Wage Labour and Collaborative Knowledge Production

(SEMINAR ROOM 105)

English

Chair: Michèle Amacker (University of Bern, CH)

& Nathalie Amstutz (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

Please note: This panel is designed in conversation with the "Laboratory" organized by Carole Ammann and Leo Valentim Theissing (Room 105, Parallel Panel Sessions 2)

Sarah Schilliger (University of Bern/ETH Zurich, CH)

& Katrin Hofer (University of Zurich, CH)

Who cares about those who do care work? Imagining and co-creating a 'Caring City'

Reta Barfuss (University of Zurich, CH)

& Karin Schwiter (University of Zurich, CH)

Tackling underemployment in cleaning companies – avenues for collaborative research and producing positive social change

Valeria Pisani (University of Bern, CH)

Laura Tognetti (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

& Lea Küng (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

Reflections on participatory research with people working in jobs without formal qualifications requirements and on its connection to epistemic (in)justice

Christina Mittmässer (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

Myrian Carbalaj (College of Social Work Fribourg, CH)

Milena Chimenti (College of Social Work Geneva, CH)

& Emma Gauttier (College of Social Work Fribourg, CH)

Beyond Giving Voice: Building Trust and Collaboration in Research with Domestic Workers

14:45–15:00 Comfort Break

Gender & Environment

(SEMINAR ROOM 106)

English

Lucile Quéré (University of Lausanne, CH) & Isabelle Zinn (Bern University of Applied Sciences, CH)

Edmée Ballif (University of Zurich, CH)

Green parenting and gender roles in Switzerland

Lucile Quéré (University of Lausanne, CH)

Raising ecologist children. The gendered and generational division of labour in the Swiss family-led climate movement

Mathilde Krahnenbühl (University of Lausanne, CH)

What climate change does to family arrangements?

Climate concerned parents moving to rural areas in France

Nolwenn Bühl (University of Lausanne, CH)

Breathing with the trouble: a feminist STS perspective on air pollution

Isabelle Zinn (Bern University of Applied Sciences, CH)

Katharina Keil (University of Lausanne, CH)

& Selin Yilmaz (University of Lausanne, CH)

Green New Work and Gender Justice: Exploring working time reduction

Embodying Knowledges & Corporeal Regimes

(SEMINAR ROOM 104)

English / German

Chair: Marion Schulze (University of Basel, CH)

Oxana Eremin (University of Paderborn, D)

Menstruation meets Yoga – Körper- & Geschlechterwissen im Kontext hormon- &zykluskontrollierter

Yogapraxis

Jasmin Schmidlin (University of Basel, CH)

•Body Literacy im zyklischen Leben: Vom zyklischen

Körper als sprechendes Gegenüber in Menstruations-

rätgebern

Mirjam Werlen (Children's Advocacy Switzerland, CH)

Wissensproduktion der Medizin und Intergeschlech-

lichkeit: Epistemische Ungerechtigkeit und Gewalt

Feminist Approaches to Low-Wage Labour and Collaborative Knowledge Production

(SEMINAR ROOM 105)

English

Chair: Michèle Amacker (University of Bern, CH)

& Nathalie Amstutz (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

Please note: This panel is designed in conversation with the "Laboratory" organized by Carole Ammann and Leo Valentim Theissing (Room 105, Parallel Panel Sessions 2)

Sarah Schilliger (University of Bern/ETH Zurich, CH)

& Katrin Hofer (University of Zurich, CH)

Who cares about those who do care work? Imagining and co-creating a 'Caring City'

Reta Barfuss (University of Zurich, CH)

& Karin Schwiter (University of Zurich, CH)

Tackling underemployment in cleaning companies – avenues for collaborative research and producing positive social change

Valeria Pisani (University of Bern, CH)

Laura Tognetti (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

& Lea Küng (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

Reflections on participatory research with people working in jobs without formal qualifications requirements and on its connection to epistemic (in)justice

Christina Mittmässer (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

Myrian Carbalaj (College of Social Work Fribourg, CH)

Milena Chimenti (College of Social Work Geneva, CH)

& Emma Gauttier (College of Social Work Fribourg, CH)

Beyond Giving Voice: Building Trust and Collaboration in Research with Domestic Workers

14:45–15:00 Comfort Break

15:00–16:30 Parallel Panel Sessions 2

(SEMINAR ROOM 103)

Re-Zentrierung marginalisierter Wissensbestände

(SEMINAR ROOM 107)

German

Chair: Anna Theresa Leyrer (University of Basel, CH)

Antje Schnarr (University of Duisburg-Essen, D)

Epistemische Teilhabe als Frage der Wahrnehmbarkeit

Natalie Giuseppina Dutecu (Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg, D)

Postmigrantische Epistemologie

<b

TUESDAY, 9 SEPTEMBER 2025

09:15–10:45 Parallel Panel Sessions 4

Queer knowledge production and circulation: bridging gaps in cis-heteronormative institutions – Vol. I

(SEMINAR ROOM 103)

English
Chair: Caroline Chautems (University of California, US),
Mica Palaz (University of Lausanne, CH),
Marta Roca i Escoda (University of Lausanne, CH)
& Thomas Méchineau (Swiss Rainbow Families Association, CH)

Gaé Colussi (University of Lausanne, CH)
Strategies for LGBTIQ-Specific Knowledge Production: From Community Expertise to Public Action

Elisa Rossi (University of Lausanne, CH)
Sex therapy's limits and the rise of alternative support for non-cisgender and non-monogamous individuals

Caroline Chautems (University of California, US),
Mica Palaz (University of Lausanne, CH)

& Marta Roca i Escoda (University of Lausanne, CH)
Community-based knowledge in queer family-building: insights from Switzerland and California

Madeleine Pepe (University of Lausanne, CH) & Tomas Ojeda (University of Lausanne, CH)

Countering epistemic violence as a strategy of cis-supremacy: The case of the Gender Recognition Act, UK
Clara Almeida Lozar (University of Fribourg, CH)
Regulating Queer Families: The Circulation of Knowledge in Child Protection Institutions

MIT dem Körper wissen – Bewegung als Wissensquelle

(SEMINAR ROOM 104)

German
Chair: Arno Plass (University of Arts Linz, AT)

This workshop offers a space for exploration in which knowledge is confronted with (interpersonal) movement.

Re-envisioning affective solidarities across contexts

(SEMINAR ROOM 105)

English
Chair: Christa Binswanger (University of St. Gallen, CH) & Isabelle Albisser (University of St. Gallen, CH)

Nora Steiner (University of Bern, CH)
Imagining alternatives: emotions in political theatre performances

Faduma Abukar Mursal (University of Lucerne, CH)
Ordinary emotions in global governance: training for peace and re-envisioning it

Solène Froidevaux (University of Lausanne, CH)
Rethinking knowledge production on bodies in sport through emotions

Elo L. K. Reiss (University of St.Gallen, CH)
Queer Space: Collective organization of resistance through queering spatial practices

Gemeinsam für feministische Wissensproduktion: Geschichte und Zukunft des Vereins Feministische Wissenschaft Schweiz

(SEMINAR ROOM 106)

German
Chair: Seraina Wepfer (University of Bern, CH),
Liliane Meyer Pitton (femwiss, CH),
Nina Seiler (Zurich University of the Arts, CH)

& Franziska Schutzbach (femwiss, CH)
This panel features an input by Franziska Schutzbach (Welche Stärke liegt in der Verbundenheit?), a collective input (Es ist nicht egal, wer dein Wissen schafft) and an open discussion in the form of a world café.

Silenced but Audible: Struggles for Feminist Knowledges

(SEMINAR ROOM 107)

English / German
Chair: Jasmin Schmidlin (University of Basel, CH)

Julia Silvana Hofstetter (Chatham House's Advisory Group on Gender and Cybersecurity, UK)
Silenced by Surveillance Capitalism: Feministische Perspektiven auf epistemische Ungerechtigkeit im digitalen Zeitalter

Gabriela Ramirez-Rey (Linköping University, SE)
Silenced Voices: Digital Censorship and the Communication of Gender Issues
Elizabeth Mesok (University of Basel, CH)
A Feminist Response to the Entanglement of Liberalism and Fascism

Science, Objectivity & Critique: Queer-Feminist, and Trans* Perspectives

(SEMINAR ROOM 210)

German / English / French
Chair: Sigrid Schmitz (Humboldt University, D)

Anna Ransiek (Free University of Berlin, D)
Zwischen Objektivität und Vorurteil: Zur Gegenwart vergeschlechterlicher Wissensbestände in der Mathematik

Iley Fröhlich (Bauhaus University Weimar, D)
Zur Objektivität der Optimierung im Transhumanismus

Vivian Buchholz (University of Innsbruck, AT)
Widersprüche auf dem Weg vom situierten Wissen zur starken Objektivität: Sandra Hardings feministische Standpunkttheorie zwischen dialektischer Bildungstheorie und Identitätspolitik

Doris Leibetseder (University of Basel, CH)
Queering and Transing STS with the example of Assisted Reproductive Technologies

Célia Tzortzis (University of Geneva, CH)
Créer des techniques et des savoirs sur la beauté pour construire le genre : l'exemple de la naissance de la chirurgie esthétique

Re-Visioning Creative Practices

(SEMINAR ROOM 211)

German / English
Chair: Aden Kumler (University of Basel, CH)

Paula Stoica (University of Basel, CH)
Un/Writing 'Woman.' On Hanne Darboven's writing practice

Deborah Mueller (University of Vienna, AT)
Subjektivität und Perspektivierung. Situiertes Wissen in der feministischen Videokunst der 1970er Jahre
Marion Schulze (University of Basel, CH)
Textosterone & T/extasy: 1970/80s Feminist Writing Against Wordlessness

10:45–11:15 Coffee Break

11:15–12:45 Parallel Panel Sessions 5

Queer knowledge production and circulation: bridging gaps in cis-heteronormative institutions – Vol. II

(SEMINAR ROOM 103)

English
Chair: Caroline Chautems (University of California, US),
Mica Palaz (University of Lausanne, CH),
Marta Roca i Escoda (University of Lausanne, CH),
& Thomas Méchineau (Swiss Rainbow Families Association, CH)

Lucrezia Perrig (University of Lausanne, CH)
Producing blurred lines – What marriage does to friendship in queer relationships

Raphaël Bize (University of Lausanne, CH) & Camille Beziane (Les Klamydia's, CH)
Engage queer communities to provide healthcare professionals with the most relevant training program in LGBTI health

Elorri Harriet (College of Social Work Geneva & University of Geneva, CH)
Knowledge sharing in the field
Tamara Bosshardt (University of Lucerne, CH), Leo Valentin Theissing (University of Lucerne, CH) & Carole Ammann (University of Lucerne, CH)
Caring with research participants: Centering queer voices in a mixed-method project on rainbow families

This panel features an input by Franziska Schutzbach (Welche Stärke liegt in der Verbundenheit?), a collective input (Es ist nicht egal, wer dein Wissen schafft) and an open discussion in the form of a world café.

Family, Kinship & State Policies

(SEMINAR ROOM 104)

German / English
Chair: Jasmin Schmidlin (University of Applied Sciences and Arts Northwestern Switzerland, CH)

Carla Riese (University of Leipzig, D)
Staatliche Reproduktion von Geschlechterideologie: Eine Analyse der ‹Ehe für Alle› in Deutschland
Stephanie Rieder-Zagkla (University of Vienna, AT)
Wissen – Ehe – Geschlecht. Zur (Re) Produktion von Wissen über Geschlecht, Sex/ualitäten und Körper in österreichischen Eheverfahren zwischen 1783 und 1938

Victor Santos Rodriguez (University of Lausanne, CH)
(In)security, silencing and hindered parenting how the Europeanization of Swiss migration policy perpetuates reproductive and epistemic injustices
Sarah Bodelson (Malmö University, SE)
The Politics of Knowledge Production in the Campaign to Repeal the Abortion Ban in Ireland
Leonie Abstein (University of Zurich, CH)
Der Elefant im Raum. Lebensform Elternschaft und unerfüllter Kinderwunsch als Leerstellen im ethischen Diskurs um assistierte Reproduktionstechnologie

Science, Objectivity & Critique: Queer-Feminist, and Trans* Perspectives

(SEMINAR ROOM 210)

German / English / French
Chair: Sigrid Schmitz (Humboldt University, D)

Anna Ransiek (Free University of Berlin, D)
Zwischen Objektivität und Vorurteil: Zur Gegenwart vergeschlechterlicher Wissensbestände in der Mathematik

Iley Fröhlich (Bauhaus University Weimar, D)
Zur Objektivität der Optimierung im Transhumanismus

Vivian Buchholz (University of Innsbruck, AT)
Widersprüche auf dem Weg vom situierten Wissen zur starken Objektivität: Sandra Hardings feministische Standpunkttheorie zwischen dialektischer Bildungstheorie und Identitätspolitik

Doris Leibetseder (University of Basel, CH)
Queering and Transing STS with the example of Assisted Reproductive Technologies

Célia Tzortzis (University of Geneva, CH)
Créer des techniques et des savoirs sur la beauté pour construire le genre : l'exemple de la naissance de la chirurgie esthétique

Antifeminismus auf Social Media

(SEMINAR ROOM 106)

German
Chair: Lotte Verhagen (Eastern Switzerland Universities of Applied Sciences, CH)

This workshop aims to provide a brief insight into examples of antifeminist content on social media to subsequently facilitate an interdisciplinary exchange on the topic.

Knowledge production in anti-democratic times: Imperialism, (dis)articulation, and anti-gender politics

(SEMINAR ROOM 107)

English
Chair: Anukriti Dixit (University of Bern, CH)

This workshop will be offered as a space to critically think, reflect and present alternative theories, imaginations and practices that take imperialism into account while articulating concerns around gendered politics.
With contributions by Isis Giraldo, Patricia Purtschert, Munecb Ul Lateef Banday, Renata Cosby & Garima Yadav.

World-making Knowledge Practices

(SEMINAR ROOM 210)

English / German
Chair: Bianca Prietl (University of Basel, CH)

Veronika von Wachter (Technical University Berlin, D)
Der politische Moment von Wissen. Die Unterscheidung ‹Wirklichkeit vs. Schein› als weltschaffende Denkpraxis

Dana Landau (University of Basel, CH)
Dialogue after Peace? Women-led dialogues in post-settlement Colombia, Kosovo, and the Philippines
Herlina Dedy Listiani (University of Brawijaya, ID)
& Ajeng Inayatul Ilahiyah (University of Brawijaya, ID)
Between Prophecy and Patriarchy: Muslim Women's Narratives of Equality and Empowerment in Rural Indonesia

Leonie Schulz (University of Bielefeld, D)
Knowledge Production of Trans People's Experiences in Prison Using Embodied Critical Methodologies
Ela Przybylo (Illinois State University, US)
Pléc to Problem: Embodied Gender and Sex in Olga Tokarczuk's Empuzón

Kitchen Politics. Emanzipatorische, transdisziplinäre Wissensordnungen

(KASERNE BASEL)

German
Chair: Andrea Zimmermann (University of Bern, CH)

Dominique Grisard (University of Basel, CH)
Discussants: Katrin Köppert (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin, D), Adelheid Mers (School of the Art Institute of Chicago, USA), Christa Binswanger (University of St. Gallen, CH), Anne-Berenike Rothstein (University of Konstanz, D) & Lea Dora Illmer (University of Basel, CH)

Please note: This workshop takes place at a different location than the conference venue: Klybeckstrasse 1b, 4057 Basel. It is organized by the SAGS

This roundtable discussion focuses the socio-technical conditions, possibilities and ambivalences of circulating emancipatory ideas online. It takes up discussions of so-called netpolitics that have since the 1990s engaged with the possibilities provided by the internet and related net-technologies for advancing feminist goals and emancipatory politics, especially by integrating artistic and activist interventions. Today, this means foremost to take a look at platform based social media and the ways that emancipatory ideas circulate via these current-day net-technologies. #metoo might be the most prominent example of so-called hashtag-feminism, symbolizing the possibilities of developing positions critical of patriarchal and heteronormative power asymmetries and mobilizing large populations against the ensuing violence. At the same time, women and people not conforming to binary gender norms are especially prone to encountering hate speech online due to their gender or sexuality, while social media providers are disinvesting from diversity programs and content moderation rules that were supposed to counteract different forms of online violence. Although social media have been criticized for impeding differentiated and fine-tuned debates, while favoring highly emotionalized and polarizing messages, they are key to today's netpolitics. The roundtable brings analytical perspectives on feminist netpolitics today in a dialogue with first-hand experiences in circulating emancipatory ideas online.

In this exchange forms of knowledge production are explored in a creative way to examine the connection between scientific and artistic epistemologies. We therefore come together in the seemingly private space of the kitchen to engage in dialogue and cook together and thus continue the tradition of 'kitchen politics'. The simultaneity of cooking as care work and speaking in solidarity – as caring knowledge production – forms the performative framework of networking.

This roundtable discussion explores the socio-technical conditions, possibilities and ambivalences of circulating emancipatory ideas online. It takes up discussions of so-called netpolitics that have since the 1990s engaged with the possibilities provided by the internet and related net-technologies for advancing feminist goals and emancipatory politics, especially by integrating artistic and activist interventions. Today, this means foremost to take a look at platform based social media and the ways that emancipatory ideas circulate via these current-day net-technologies. #metoo might be the most prominent example of so-called hashtag-feminism, symbolizing the possibilities of developing positions critical of patriarchal and heteronormative power asymmetries and mobilizing large populations against the ensuing violence. At the same time, women and people not conforming to binary gender norms are especially prone to encountering hate speech online due to their gender or sexuality, while social media providers are disinvesting from diversity programs and content moderation rules that were supposed to counteract different forms of online violence. Although social media have been criticized for impeding differentiated and fine-tuned debates, while favoring highly emotionalized and polarizing messages, they are key to today's netpolitics. The roundtable brings analytical perspectives on feminist netpolitics today in a dialogue with first-hand experiences in circulating emancipatory ideas online.

In this exchange forms of knowledge production are explored in a creative way to examine the connection between scientific and artistic epistemologies. We therefore come together in the seemingly private space of the kitchen to engage in dialogue and cook together and thus continue the tradition of 'kitchen politics'. The simultaneity of cooking as care work and speaking in solidarity – as caring knowledge production – forms the performative framework of networking.

This roundtable discussion explores the socio-technical conditions, possibilities and ambivalences of circulating emancipatory ideas online. It takes up discussions of so-called netpolitics that have since the 1990s engaged with the possibilities provided by the internet and related net-technologies for advancing feminist goals and emancipatory politics, especially by integrating artistic and activist interventions. Today, this means foremost to take a look at platform based social media and the ways that emancipatory ideas circulate via these current-day net-technologies. #metoo might be the most prominent example of so-called hashtag-feminism, symbolizing the possibilities of developing positions critical of patriarchal and heteronormative power asymmetries and mobilizing large populations against the ensuing violence. At the same time, women and people not conforming to binary gender norms are especially prone to encountering hate speech online due to their gender or sexuality, while social media providers are disinvesting from diversity programs and content moderation rules that were supposed to counteract different forms of online violence. Although social media have been criticized for impeding differentiated and fine-tuned debates, while favoring highly emotionalized and polarizing messages, they are key to today's netpolitics. The roundtable brings analytical perspectives on feminist netpolitics today in a dialogue with first-hand experiences in circulating emancipatory ideas online.

In this exchange forms of knowledge production are explored in a creative way to examine the connection between scientific and artistic epistemologies. We therefore come together in the seemingly private space of the kitchen to engage in dialogue and cook together and thus continue the tradition of 'kitchen politics'. The simultaneity of cooking as care work and speaking in solidarity – as caring knowledge production – forms the performative framework of networking.

This roundtable discussion explores the socio-technical conditions, possibilities and ambivalences of circulating emancipatory ideas online. It takes up discussions of so-called netpolitics that have since the 1990s engaged with the possibilities provided by the internet and related net-technologies for advancing feminist goals and emancipatory politics, especially by integrating artistic and activist interventions. Today, this means foremost to take a look at platform based social media and the ways that emancipatory ideas circulate via these current-day net-technologies. #metoo might be the most prominent example of so-called hashtag-feminism, symbolizing the possibilities of developing positions critical of patriarchal and heteronormative power asymmetries and mobilizing large populations against the ensuing violence. At the same time, women and people not conforming to binary gender norms are especially prone to encountering hate speech online due to their gender or sexuality, while social media providers are disinvesting from diversity programs and content moderation rules that were supposed to counteract different forms of online violence. Although social media have been criticized for impeding differentiated and fine-tuned debates, while favoring highly emotionalized and polarizing messages, they are key to today's netpolitics. The roundtable brings analytical perspectives on feminist netpolitics today in a dialogue with first-hand experiences in circulating emancipatory ideas online.

In this exchange forms of knowledge production are explored in a creative way to examine the connection between scientific and artistic epistemologies. We therefore come together in the seemingly private space of the kitchen to engage in dialogue and cook together and thus continue the tradition of 'kitchen politics'. The simultaneity of cooking as care work and speaking in solidarity – as caring knowledge production – forms the performative framework of networking.

This roundtable discussion explores the socio-technical conditions